MEETING OF DELEGATES HELD

All Express Need of a Commodious Central Building in Washington—Plans Include Hall for Inaugural Ball—D. A. R. to Be Invited.

A meeting of delegates from nearly all of the various artistic, musical, scientific, and patriotic societies was held in the parlor of the Cosmos Club, at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, for the purpose of discussing the erection of a building in Washington that might accommodate all.

The meeting was called by the Society of Washington Artists, and was more for the purpose of obtaining the views of the different societies on the general character of the proposed building, and effecting an organization to push the work, than for the outlining of any definite plan.

Mr. E. L. Morse, of the Society of Washington Artists, called the meeting to order, and made a brief statement of its purposes. He said in part:

"We are all interested in seeing erected in Washington in the near future a building or buildings which can accommodate us all. We artists want proper facilities for holding exhibitions and so do the architects. The musical societies and all lovers of music want a properly equipped concert hall.

"The scientists want a place in which to hold meetings and lectures. The patriotic societies want a convention hall peculiarly their own, decorated according to their special needs, and which can be used as repositories for their archives and relics.

"All the people want a dignified and spacious hall, where inaugural balls may be held, and where receptions and assemblies of a national, or semi-national character may find ample accommodation."

"We are here this afternoon to see whether we cannot devise some plan by which one building would suffice for all our needs, to effect a permanent organization having for its object the speedy realization of our hopes. We should resolve to work together heartily and in harmony toward one common end."

Election of Officers.
Mr. Morse then announced that the election of officers was in order. Prof. W. J. Magee, of the Washington Academy of Sciences, was chosen president, and Mr. Hobart Nichols, of the Society of Washington Artists, secretary.

It was found upon calling the roll of the societies invited to send delegates, that all had not responded, and that many of the delegates present were not under instructions from their organizations to speak for them. The organization represented by one or more delegates were:

The George Washington Memorial Association, the Loyal Legion, the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Sons of the American Revolution, the Society of the Cincinnati, the Aztec Society, the Society of Colonial Wars, the Society of the War of 1812, the Society of Washington Artists, the Washington Water Color Club, the Washington Architects Club, the Georgetown Orchestra, the Choral Society, the Washington Academy of Sciences, the Washington Memorial Institution, and the Board of District Commissioners.

Question of Funds.
The proceedings were of an informal nature. The question of raising the necessary funds for the building was discussed. Mr. Barry Bulkley suggested that a Congressional appropriation could be more easily reached if the scheme of the proposed building were to embrace municipal offices.

Mr. E. H. Warner believed the best way to secure the necessary funds was through the gift of some wealthy man, who might desire to have his name connected with such a memorial.

It was suggested that the Daughters of the American Revolution, or the George Washington Memorial Society, might like to contribute the funds which they have in hand for the erection of memorials toward the building project.

Object to Congress.
The Congressional appropriation plan met with some disfavor. The question was raised whether, if Congress gave the money, it would not hold control. Some discussion also sprang up regarding the advisability of combining municipal offices with auditoriums and art galleries.

Prof. Magee exhibited a rough draft of a building, which he thought might, with modifications, meet the requirements of the various societies. His plan provided for a two-story building, enclosing a large central court, covered by a glass roof, which might be used for inaugural balls, conventions, and large assemblies of a like semi-national nature.

Portion for Officers.
One end of the building was to be taken up by the art galleries, which were to extend quite to the top of the building, and the other by an auditorium. The rest of the building, except the basement, which might be used for an armory, was to be given up to offices.

The idea was advanced that the erection of municipal offices, armory, and room for holding balls and conventions was not properly the business of societies such as these represented.

To Confer With Others.
It was moved and carried that the chair appoint a committee to take under consideration the suggestions advanced, confer with other societies on the project and report at a meeting to be held at the Cosmos Club at such time in the next few weeks, as the chairman shall consider it advisable to call them together.

The committee consists of the following named gentlemen: Prof. Charles D. Walcott, chairman; Mr. E. H. Warner; Mr. S. W. Woodward; Mr. William R. King; Mr. E. L. Morse, and Mr. Bernard Green.

HER COLOR STILL IN DOUBT.
Grocer Says Marie Marshall Is White, But She Denies It.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 15.—Marie Marshall, the woman who was married to William Marshall, a negro, last Thursday in Washington, stated yesterday that her mother was a colored woman.

When a reporter, who had called at 554 Druid Hill Avenue, where Marshall and his wife are living, enquired if she was white, the bride seemed much alarmed. Before answering the question directly she wanted to know what could be done with her if she was white.

She then said her mother was a colored woman, and that she had always associated with colored people in Baltimore. When asked if a white man did not take her to a theatre last week, she refused to answer. She also declined to say why she had gone to Washington to get married.

A colored man who keeps a grocery on Pearl Street, and who has known the Marshall woman since she came to this city from Virginia, told a reporter that she is white.

AUTOMOBILES FOR ASHCARTS.

New York Street Cleaning Department to Give Them a Test.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Street Cleaning Commissioner Woodbury will shortly try the experiment of removing ashes from the upper West Side streets by using two large and powerful automobiles built specially for the purpose. West of Central Park on the upper West Side there are no dumps between Forty-seventh Street and 124th Street, and the haul is hard on the horses used on ashcarts.

An automobile concern has persuaded Commissioner Woodbury that powerful automobiles, capable of carrying five or six yards of earth each, would do the work more cheaply than horses. It is understood that if the automobiles prove to be economical carriers the commissioner will recommend that several of them be put in use.

Deputy Commissioner Gibson said of the proposed experiment yesterday: "A company is building two automobile carts with which the city will experiment. The only objection to them that I now see is that it is doubtful whether they can climb, with a heavy load, the 30-degree incline at the dump. Aside from this, they appear to be the best vehicles to use, as they can go faster and carry larger loads than horses."

A ST. VALENTINE DANCE.

Souvenirs Distributed at German Confession at Confederate Hall.

St. Valentine's Day was marked by the usual Friday night dance at Confederate Veterans' Hall, given by Miss Marie Leonardo to her pupils and their friends. The attendance of votaries of Terpsichore was more than sufficient to crowd the dance floor.

The feature of the evening was the German confessions, with the St. Valentine's figure, when dainty little souvenirs, pretty heart-shaped valentine cards, bearing the usual honeyed messages appropriate to the day, were distributed. The close of the dance was the occasion for a general confetti bombardment. Miss O'Mara and Miss Leonardo, who has become recognized as one of the best educators in the city of little girls, had a very large and distinguished class this year. Among her dancing pupils are to be found a great number of attaches to the various foreign legations, besides sons and daughters of the best resident and official families.

REMEMBERS HER SCHOOLMATE.

Mrs. Schwab's Generous Way of Remembering Girlhood Friendship.

PERTH AMBOY, N. J., Feb. 15.—A story was told here today by a visitor from Chillicothe, Ohio, illustrating the thoughtful generosity of Mrs. Charles M. Schwab, of Pittsburgh, wife of the millionaire president of the great United States Steel Company.

Mrs. James Dunbar, of East Water Street, Chillicothe, knew Mrs. Schwab intimately in their girlhood days, when they were schoolmates in Waverly, Pa.

Since growing to womanhood they have known little of each other, both having married and moved from their native town years ago.

Mrs. Dunbar had lived in many other places, moving last to Chillicothe a year or two ago, where her husband is employed as a cooper.

She received a notification during the holidays that there was a letter deposited to her address in the postoffice of Pittsburgh, and the stamp having fallen off, it would be forwarded upon the receipt of the proper postage.

Mrs. Dunbar, thinking it probably a circular, paid little heed to the notice, but it kept recurring to her mind with some persistence, and at last she decided to expend the four cents necessary postage.

In return, what was her surprise to receive a pleasant letter from Mrs. Schwab, enclosing a Christmas remembrance in the form of a check. It is believed that Mrs. Schwab had been hunting up all her old schoolmates for the purpose of signifying in this substantial fashion that the pleasant associations of early days were not forgotten.

HAYES GETS NINE MONTHS.

Wants Alley Concreted.
Mrs. Flora B. Cabell, of 110 Second Street southeast, has called the attention of the District Commissioners to the condition of an alley adjoining her premises, and suggests that it be paved with concrete. The Commission Engineer has recommended that the communication be referred to the City Solicitor for an opinion as to the public or private status of the alley.

IN COURT WITH BROKEN ARM.

Dunn was charged with being disorderly on a street car. Notwithstanding his alleged misfortune he was fined $10, which he paid.

Bromo-Pepsin.

Gentlemen: For several years I have been so troubled with my nerves that sound and refreshing sleep was impossible for me to obtain. At my advanced time of life, being 70 years of age, this was a very serious matter, and I began to despair of ever being able to find any relief, particularly as I had tried many physicians and numerous remedies of all sorts. At the same time I had some trouble with my stomach, and added to it all was a severe cough and attack of rheumatism, the latter causing me great pain and helping to interfere with obtaining sleep during the night. Several weeks ago my son, who is owner and editor of the "Blairsville (Pa.) Daily Courier," handed me a bottle of BROMO-PEPSIN, saying as he did so that it might give me some relief, and advising me to try it. I took the first dose that night, having, however, but little faith in its efficacy, but much to my surprise and delight I dropped into a sound sleep and awakened in the morning feeling better than I had done for years.

Another dose the next evening had the same result, and now that I have taken it for about three weeks, I desire to say that I regard it as being the very best remedy of its sort that I have any acquaintance with, and that in my case every promise that its manufacturers make has been fulfilled.

You are at liberty to use this letter in any way that it may please you. Gratefully yours, MISS F. KERLER.

This commendation is but a sample of the grateful acknowledgments received daily from many of the thousands who have used BROMO-PEPSIN. For HEADACHE, INDIGESTION, INSOMNIA, BRAIN FOG, NERVOUSNESS, and generally disturbed conditions of the stomach and nervous system, BROMO-PEPSIN has no equal anywhere. BROMO-PEPSIN CONTAINS NO OPIATES. It is compounded of pure and highly curative remedies, and is ABSOLUTELY HARMLESS. Physicians everywhere prescribe it. BROMO-PEPSIN is effervescent and pleasant and refreshing to take. Note the word PEPsin, and insist on having BROMO-PEPSIN. Take no substitute.
